

LINES TO REBECCA.

Composed by R* M* on the 4th of July, 1845, and in [the Seventieth year of the Sovereignty and independency of the United States of America, and most respectfully dedicated to one who deprived him of his abner and converted him into a horse flea.

Oh maiden dear, the hour is near
That bids me part from thee;
But when I'm gone, to thee alone,
My heart shall constant be.

To my native home I soon shall roam—
Those sunny hills I'll see—
Tho' I love earth that gave me birth,
My heart, Beck, clings to thee.

O'er Kershaw's plains tho' beauty reigns,
And her souls are warm and free,
Yet Attala's hills will awaken thrills
In the heart that clings to thee.

Forms far more bright may meet my sight,
And hearts more full of glee,
But be they fair as angels are,
My heart Beck, clings to thee.

Thy glossy curl, sweet tender girl,
Is such as we rarely see;
That full dark eye wrings many sighs
From the heart that clings to thee.

Thy forehead high full well may vie
With the Sculptors bold and free;
Thy charming face has made a case
Of the heart that clings to thee.

Thy form's as fair as a sylph of the air,
And as soft as a nymph of the sea;
That long eyelash has made a ternal smash
Of the heart that fondly clings to thee.

Thy soft lips' roseary wreath, round thy sweet
pearly teeth,
Have bid me no longer be so free,
And my senses beset & my abner they get,
From the heart that fondly clings to thee.

Should fortune's hate, or cruel fate,
Frown darkly down on me,
Thy tender smile can soon beguile
The heart that clings to thee.

But when I'm gone be not forlorn,
But ever think on me,
For while away nought shall betray
The heart that clings to thee.

But may I dare, oh maiden fair,
To hope that yours soon will be,
As warm and true, and constant too,
As the heart that clings to thee.

In world below my weal or wo
Depends on your decree,
Then pity take and do not break
The heart that clings to thee.

But pledge me now, the tender vow,
That soon I your choice will be;
It will insure some pumpkins more,
To the heart that clings to thee.

With you I'd share the rudest care
Of life's wide and ruffled sea,
Tho' tempest quick should tread in thick
On the heart that clings to thee.

One heart, one mind, one soul refined,
Your own and mine will be,
And rapture fill, horse flea it will,
The heart that clings to thee.

THE QUEEN OF SPAIN.—Under the head of foreign news we have given some of the characteristics of this royal personage. A more graphic sketch we find in the New York News. Isabel II. of Spain, (it says) is described as fat, fair, and fifteen. Her arm is immense—her bust redundantly developed, and her ankles are solid enough to support the golden tower of Seville. She waddles in her gait from excessive corpulency, and her fat, chubby face, after a little exercise, becomes suffused with a delicate bloom—the result of the fatigue of carrying so much blubber. Her manners are represented as exceedingly childish and common place. The young Isabel's appetite, it is said, is well calculated to nourish the fatness of her frame, as her corpulent Majesty devours at a meal, soup, an entire fowl, fish, pastry, followed by sweetmeats and preserves of which she is passionately fond. She has been badly brought up, one moment having had every whim gratified, and the next being cuffed by her mother—her education, too, has been neglected. She writes and spells very badly. This is the prize that Louis Phillippe wishes his son, the Duke d'Aumale, to possess! For this "fat, fair and fifteen" lump of flesh, the king sent his son to Spain!

OREGON TIMBER.—The trees in Oregon are said to be of immense height, most of them being from 250 to 300 feet high. Just think of it—a tree that will make 13 rail cuts 10 feet long.

A VALUABLE TABLE.—The following valuable table was calculated by James M. Garnet, Esq., of Essex county, Virginia, and first published in Mr. Ruffin's Farmers' Register:

TABLE.—A box 24 inches by 16 inches square, and 22 inches deep, will contain a barrel, or 10,752 cubic inches.

A box 24 by 16 inches square, and 11 inches deep, will contain a half barrel, or 5,376 cubic inches.

A box 16 inches by 16 8-10 inches square and 8 inches deep, will contain a bushel, or 2,150 4-10 inches.

A box 12 by 11 2-10 inches square and 8 inches deep, will contain half a bushel, or 1,075 cubic inches.

A box 8 inches by 8 4-10 inches square and 8 inches deep, will contain one peck, or 537 6-10 cubic inches.

A box 8 by 8 inches square, and 4 2-10 inches deep, will contain one half peck, or 268 8-10 cubic inches.

A box 7 inches by 4 inches square, and 4 8-10 inches deep, will contain a half gallon, or 134 4-10 cubic inches.

A box 4 inches by 4 inches square, and 4 2-10 inches deep, will contain one quart or 67 2-10 cubic inches.

These measures come within a small fraction of a cubic inch of being perfectly accurate; as near, indeed, as any measures of capacity have ever yet been made for common use; the difficulty of making them with absolute exactness has never yet been overcome.

HOOSIER CONVERSATION.—"Hollo, stranger, you seem to be traveling?" "Yes, I always travel when on a journey."

"What might your name be?" "It might be Sam Patch, but it isn't." "How long have you been in these parts?"

"Never longer than at present—5 feet 9."

"Do you get any thing new?" "Yes, I bought a new whetstone this morning."

"I thought so; you are the sharpest blade I've met on this road."

THE PHILOSOPHER'S STONE.—The eccentric, but brilliant, John Randolph, once rose up suddenly in his seat in the House of Representatives, and screamed out at the top of his voice:

"Mr. Speaker! Mr. Speaker! I have discovered the philosopher's stone. It is pay as you go!"

"You are the most handsome lady I ever have saw," said a gentleman to one of the fair sex.

"I wish I could say as much for you," replied the lady.

"You could, madam, if you paid as little regard to truth as I have."

It is said that our army 'swear terribly' in Texas. In the absence of Mexicans they have their hands full in fighting mosquitoes and gallinippers. A regular bred gallinipper is considered equal to two Mexicans.

The Hoosiers now claim a population of eight hundred thousand souls, scattered over all Hoosierdom. Each one they say is provided with a huge cake to carry, as soon as weaned.—Hoosierdom is a great country.

COOL.—A stranger in Baltimore, a short time since, having lost his way, said to an awkward looking fellow, "I want to go to Dover street."

"Well," replied the fellow, "coolly walking on, 'why in the d—l don't you go there?'"

Evils in the journey of life, are like the hills which alarm travelers upon the road; they both appear great at a distance, but when we approach them, we find they are far less insurmountable than we had conceived.

Mr. Webster says that it is etiquette in China for one guest at the social board to feed another, and he declares, that the Chinese love the strong liquors of the barbarians.

Some philosopher gives good advice in the following quaint style:—Ye who are eating the apple dumplings and molasses of wealth should not forget those who are sucking the herring bones of poverty.

Mr. Calhoun is said to have finished one volume of his contemplated work on the principles of government, and the presumption is, that it will soon be put to press.

The river Amazon is navigable for steam-ships from its mouth on the Atlantic to Lima, in Peru, and within eight miles of Callao, one of the principal ports on the Pacific.

If envy were in any case allowable, one might envy those who have the pleasure of doing good; and the way this envy should be shown, is by doing better.

A man by the name of Cobb is great in the temperance cause. This Cobb, we suppose was never corned.

Somebody, who has evidently got into the world through some odd mistake, has written thus:—

"What are another's faults to me?
I've not a virtue's bill.
To pick at every fault I see,
And make it wider still."

It is enough for me to know
I have follies of my own—
And on my heart the care bestow,
And let my friends alone."

WINTER SCRAP.—The following quaint epitaph was written on the tombstone of a youth, at Frith, in Derbyshire, England. The comparison is seasonable.

"Our life is but a winter's day,
Some only breakfast and away!
Others to dinner stay, and are full fed;
The oldest man sups and goes to bed!
Large is the debt who lingers out the day,
Who goes the soonest has the least to pay."

There is nothing that annoys a tidy house-keeper so much as to have her carpet spotted with lamp oil or grease, and we therefore make known for their benefit, the following recipe for extracting oil or grease spots from carpets or clothes.

Cover the grease spot with whiting, and let it remain until it becomes saturated with the grease, then scrape it off and cover it with another coat of whiting, and if this does not entirely remove the grease, repeat the application. Three coats of whiting will, in most cases, remove the spot, when it should be brushed off with a cloth's brush. [Tribune.

The territory of Oregon contains 360,000 square miles, which is extent enough to form seven States as large as New York. It extends 700 miles along the Rocky Mountains on the east, 300 miles along the Snowy Mountains on the south, 700 miles along the Pacific Ocean, and 340 miles along the possessions of Russia and England on the north. Some of the islands on the coast of the Pacific are very large.

The "man in the moon" must be the king of salamanders. At a recent meeting of the British association, in England, Sir John Herschell, in speaking of the moon, expressed the opinion that the temperature of the climate in that body must be very high, "far above that of boiling water."

NEW DEFINITIONS.—Egotism—Suffering the private I to be too much before the public eye.

DITCH—A place in which those who have taken too much wine, are apt to take a little water.

JEALOUSY—Tormenting yourself for fear you should be tormented by another.

Diogenes being asked of what beast the bite is most dangerous, answered, "Of wild beasts, that of a slanderer; of tame, that of a flatterer."

Little things should never be despised; many straws united may bind an elephant.

A true thing spoken by a false tongue, can hardly escape being corrupted.

We never know the worth of water till the well is dry.

PROSPECTUS

For publishing in the town of Kosciusko, Attala county, Mi., a weekly newspaper, to be entitled the

KOSCIUSKO CHRONICLE.

The United States of America is a great country—the State of Mississippi a great State—the county of Attala a great county,—and the Town of Kosciusko, no doubt, would be a great Town, was it not for the simple facts that the seat of government has not yet been removed to said town—that Big Black has not yet been cleared out, so that steam boats can navigate it up to a point opposite said town—that the Jackson Railroad has not yet been extended on, through Canton, to said town—and more particularly, that at this time there is no newspaper published in said town, through which these projects can be laid before this great people. Now, it is a well established fact, beyond the point of contradiction, that we are a great people who live in this great country—State—county—and that we expect great works to be accomplished some time or other, by somebody or other, or somebody else, and that Kosciusko would be a great place if these great improvements were but just completed, thereby bringing it, as it were, within a stone's throw of the East Indies, Australia, China, Liberia, Greenland, Kam-schatka and the North Pole.

Therefore, be it known to all men, women, children and grasshoppers, that the subscriber, in order to facilitate these great undertakings, and prevent their being nipped in the bud, and more particularly to turn an honest penny for himself, proposes to commence the publication of a little newspaper in said town, on Saturday, the third day of January, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and forty six, to be styled the Kosciusko Chronicle, and to continue to publish said paper weekly, until these great objects shall be accomplished, should the Lord be pleased to spare his life so long, and he be willing to continue in the business that long; and if not him, then to have it done by somebody else after him. The subscriber being a strong believer in the doctrines promulgated by the immaculate Harry of the West and the Godlike Daniel of the East, it might be surmised by the knowing ones that the paper will be whiggish inclined; but be this as it may, he will not at this time contradict it.

TERMS.—Two Dollars per annum in advance. G. W. HARLOW. Kosciusko, Dec. 30, 1845.

MACHINERY CUT WOOD TYPES.

THE undersigned are prepared to furnish to order, any style, size or pattern of WOOD TYPE, equal in every respect to any manufactured in the United States, at very low prices!

Our Types are accurately cut, and cleanly and neatly finished, and warranted not to become injured by any usage to which types are ordinarily subjected. The woods we use are mahogany, box wood, &c., end grain, and so prepared as to defy the action of water or the atmosphere.

Having just completed new and improved machinery, we are prepared to fill orders at the shortest notice; and being practical printers, and one of us having nine years' experience as a job printer alone, we flatter ourselves as to our ability to give satisfaction in every case.

Papers that published the advertisement of Palmer & Co., can have their orders filled by us. And papers publishing this advertisement to the amount of $5, will receive their pay in type when three times their bill is taken out. Editors will please send papers containing the advertisement that we may know where to send the specimen sheets.

$5 REWARD.

STRAYED from the subscriber, about January, 1845, a brown colored cow and a yellowish-red bull yearling. Said cow is about five years old, marked with a crop and two splits in the left ear and a swallow fork in the right, has a dun colored back, black legs, rather short horns, and is an excellent cow for milk. The yearling is unmarked, and will be two years old next spring. The above reward of five dollars will be paid for their delivery to me at Kosciusko; or two dollars to any person giving information, so that I can get them. G. W. HARLOW. Kosciusko, January 3, 1846.
